

BELMONT PRAIRIE

Cross Street • Downers Grove

Belmont Prairie is one of the last original prairies in Illinois. It is an excellent example of one of the few remaining natural prairie habitats and is maintained by the Downers Grove Park District. The animal wildlife that may be observed includes fox, raccoons, meadow voles, opossums, ground squirrels, garter snakes and, occasionally, coyote and white-tailed deer. A nature trail provides pedestrian access.

PARK HOURS: Dawn to dusk

AMENITIES

0.32-mile mowed path

P Parking

NORTH

